

DEJA NEW

Creating a split-level home from scratch was a first for these serial renovators, but a happy experience set them on the path to success

STORY HELEN ADAMS PHOTOGRAPHY SIMON KENNY

THIS PAGE a Chinese stone statue at the front door sets a serene tone. The cladding is Colorbond in Windspray. OPPOSITE the open-plan living area is a showcase for early Australian and Javanese furniture and eclectic artworks, including Duck Out To Lunch by Kerrie Lester (on left wall) and Pink Palaces And Plastic Taps by Christine Willcox. Over the dining table is a Javanese antique panel. For stockists see Where To Buy.
